MANIFESTO FOR THE EUROPEAN ELECTIONS

An Introduction by Nick Griffin

The British National Party is the only party in Britain which puts the interests of the British people FIRST. That is why we are Britain's fastest growing party, with members coming to us from every other party but mostly from that huge section of society which feels totally unrepresented by the stale old parties of failure and betrayal.

All the other parties have let you down. They have betrayed Britain and the British people. They have failed. Both Labour and Conservative governments have presided over higher taxes, higher unemployment, higher immigration and worse services; the only people who have benefitted have been the bankers. In Europe both Labour and the Tories have made concession after concession and surrender after surrender. Britain is no longer free and we are ALL worse off as a result. As for the other parties, the Liberal Democrats are even worse and want the EU to have even more power, and the MEPs of the so-called 'UK Independence Party' have been a miserable failure, causing nothing but shame and embarrassment to this country. It's time for a change.

On 4th June 2009 you will have the chance to vote for the British National Party in the elections for the European Parliament. This is your chance to vote for a party of commonsense, honesty and fairness, a party that truly cares and speaks for people like you, and a party that will NOT let you down. Most of all however, this is your chance to send a message to the stale old parties of failure and betrayal that you have had enough and are not going to put up with their lies, incompetence and corruption any longer.

By voting for the BNP you will be voting to put the interests of Britain and the British people FIRST. Our policy on the European Union is clear, straightforward and unambiguous: Britain would be better off out of the EU.

When you read our manifesto you will see why Britain would be better off in every way out of the EU: financially, socially and culturally. You will see what the BNP's policies are and why you will be better off if you elect a BNP MEP.

On 4th June every vote will count. Make sure YOUR vote counts by voting for the British National Party.

Thank you,

Nick Griffin
Chairman
British National Party

PROTECTING BRITISH INTERESTS

The BNP's promises:

- ✓ We will campaign for Britain to withdraw from the EU.
- ✓ BNP MEPs will always vote in the European Parliament in the best interests of Britain and the British people.
- ✓ We will seek to expose and oppose EU corruption, incompetence, fraud and waste.
- ✓ We will work closely with MEPs from other countries that share our aims and beliefs, in order to be more effective and successful.
- ✓ We will maintain the highest standards of probity and integrity.

The BNP believes that Britain and the British people would be better off if we were free and independent of the EU. Only the BNP can deliver this freedom. We want to replace rule from Brussels with a system of cooperation between free nations. A BNP government will establish bilateral agreements on trade and travel with other countries that will benefit Britain and the British people.

We are anti-EU, but not anti-European. Our MEPs will therefore work with like-minded nationalists from other European countries in order to increase our strength and effectiveness. Everything we do will, however, be based on Britain's best interests.

The EU is riddled with fraud and corruption. Every single year the EU's accounts are criticised by their own auditors. The European Court of Auditors have stated that the EU's latest annual accounts have "serious failures", "errors" and "irregularities" and that around €6 billion was wrongly paid out; indeed, the auditors found that over 90% of the EU's budget contained errors! The BNP will fight to stop the EU's endemic fraud and corruption.

Unlike MEPs from the other political parties we will not abuse the expenses and allowances for our own personal gain. We intend to use our positions for the interests of Britain and the British people, not to get fat on the gravy train.

PROTECTING THE BRITISH PEOPLE

The BNP believes:

- ✓ We should have British control over British borders so as to stop unlimited and uncontrolled immigration and reduce crime and terrorism.
- ✓ Britain, not the EU, should decide who lives in this country.
- ✓ Anyone not born in Britain who commits a crime here should be deported.
- ✓ British citizens should only be extradited where they have committed a genuine offence abroad and there is sufficient evidence against them.
- ✓ Our armed forces should be under British control and serve British interests.

As long as we are in the EU we will have no proper control over who comes into this country, who stays here or who works here. We cannot deport criminals, we cannot stop bogus asylum seekers, and we cannot decide our own immigration policy. On the other hand, the European Arrest Warrant allows any other EU country to demand that British citizens be arrested and summarily extradited for trial and imprisonment abroad even if there is no evidence at all against them or for something that is not a crime here in Britain. This is not fair and is completely unacceptable. Foreign policemen have already been given the power to make arrests here in Britain in some cases and there are plans to develop an armed European police force.

The BNP believes that Britain should have the power to decide its own immigration policy. The European Commission, however, wants millions more immigrants to come to the EU.

The EU is developing a common foreign and security policy as well as a European army. British soldiers are already forced to serve in pan-European units and it has been proposed to develop this into a fully-fledged and independently-controlled army. A common foreign and security policy could prevent Britain from using its armed forces to defend Britain's national interests. An EU army would be equally worrying, allowing the EU to impose its political will on other countries by force.

PROTECTING OUR JOBS & FINANCES

The BNP believes:

- ✓ We must keep the Pound and control over our own economy.
- ✓ We oppose the UK's payment to the EU - next year this will cost British taxpayers around £9 billion.
- ✓ We need to eliminate unnecessary and bureaucratic EU regulations which cost British businesses around £75 billion per year.
- ✓ We support the ability to trade with other countries when this is done fairly and on equal terms.
- ✓ 'British jobs for British workers': Employers should be obliged to provide jobs and training for British workers rather than importing cheap foreign labour.

The BNP has the best policies restore Britain's economy and to reduce unemployment. Economic nationalism would have prevented the current recession from happening in the first place.

The problems caused by internationalism and globalisation can only be cured by a political party that believes in protecting Britain's economy from unfair competition, either in the form of imports or migrants who undercut British wages, driving down our living standards and quality of life.

The British National Party will always keep the Pound Sterling as an independent currency. If we joined the Euro we would lose the ability to have our own interest and exchange rates, which would be deeply damaging to industry, prices, inflation and our economy in general.

While unemployment is going up, the number of foreign workers in Britain is increasing, with the total now around 4 million. This is unfair on British workers and only the BNP will protect them. Only the BNP truly believes in the motto 'British Jobs for British Workers'. Of course we accept that if no British workers are available then it is reasonable for an employer to offer a job to a foreign worker, but in this case the employer should also provide an equal number of training places to ensure that local qualified labour is available in the future.

PROTECTING OUR RESOURCES & ENVIRONMENT

The BNP believes:

- ✓ Britain must withdraw from the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) which costs each family around £450 per year.
- ✓ Britain must withdraw from the Common Fisheries Policy (CFP).
- ✓ Britain must have exclusive control over its territorial waters.
- ✓ Britain must retain control over its oil and gas supplies.

The Common Agricultural Policy is an appalling, expensive failure. It has resulted in high prices to consumers while providing little help to farmers. It is biased in favour of European farmers and against the interests of Britain and the British people.

The CAP costs Britain around £7 billion a year. Even the government admit that the CAP is “very inefficient” and that only around 10% of the higher prices it causes actually reaches the farmers.

The Common Fisheries Policy has, if anything, been an even greater failure than the CAP. It has destroyed our fishing industry, decimated fish stocks and increased the price of fish to consumers. The BNP believes that British fishermen should have exclusive fishing rights in British territorial waters, which extend 200 miles from our shores. The BNP believes in 'British waters for British fishermen'.

The EU also wants to take over Britain's North Sea oil and gas reserves. Britain has 90% of the EU's oil reserves, but European leaders want this to come under EU control. The BNP believes that this is completely unacceptable and British natural resources must belong to Britain.

PROTECTING THE BRITISH WAY OF LIFE

The BNP believes:

- ✓ We should restore the use of Britain's traditional weights and measures.
- ✓ The British parliament and British courts should be independent of any foreign body.
- ✓ The Government should stop the closure of Post Offices, especially in rural areas, and there should be no privatisation of this or other public services, including the NHS.

EU 'harmonisation' laws prevent us from buying or selling apples by the pound, petrol by the gallon or bottled beer or lemonade by the pint - and soon the acre will also be abolished. The majority of British people prefer our traditional imperial measurements however and it is not fair that we should have the French metric units imposed on us by foreign politicians and bureaucrats. A British National Party government will therefore restore and protect the use of our traditional weights and measures.

At present around 80% of all our laws actually originate in the EU and EU law is supreme over British laws. This is not right. Britain is no longer a sovereign country. The BNP will restore and protect Britain's freedom and sovereignty as an independent nation.

The EU prevents the British government from keeping small Post Offices open, and EU Directives have resulted in Post Offices losing large amounts of business and hence becoming unprofitable. The government's answer to this problem is to close Post Offices and sell it off to private foreign companies. The BNP believes we should keep the Post Office wholly in the public sector and allow it to become profitable once more.
